Counsel:

You asked us in your letter whether plaintiffs would produce a copy of any orders, agreements or other authority that prohibits production of some responsive documents from other proceedings or investigations. Plaintiffs agree to provide a copy of any such orders or agreements in their possession and citations to any such authority. However, Plaintiffs do not agree to provide any log (categorical or document log) regarding documents from other proceedings withheld due to these issues. There is no such requirement in the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and it is an unduly burdensome and unnecessary request.

As noted in my letter from earlier today, we still do not know what you intend to put in your portion of tomorrow's joint status letter or even the list of issues you intend to raise. Nor do we have a process for finalizing the submission.

In our letter, we have told you the issues we intend to raise. In yesterday's letter, you indicated that there were potentially two issues you would raise with Judge Wang which are what you termed "scope of production" and "confidentiality of documents". Please confirm that these are the only two issues you intend to raise in tomorrow's submission. If not, please let us know whether you intend to raise any other issues.

Thank you,

Michael
